EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION.

 The Calendar now printed by me—practically for my own use while editing the Norfolk Visitations—was compiled from the original roll by the late John L'Estrange of Norwich, possibly the most industrious local antiquary of this century, He began to print it in the East Anglian Notes and Queries, but that publication stopping in 1871, nothing beyond "F" got into type.

On his premature death the MS. was bought by me, and all I have done to it is to arrange it lexicographically and see it through the press. I have not had the opportunity of reading or checking the proofs with the original roll, so must distinctly disclaim any responsibility for any errors which may have been made in the transcript, and wish to warn my readers that it by no means follows that what is here printed is all that is contained in the roll, so anyone interested in any entry should look at the original.

I am not aware that any similar Calendar has yet been printed, and hope that its publication may induce others to print the rolls of their cities.

The preface is a reprint of that, by L'Estrange himself, which appears in the East Anglian Notes and Queries.

PUTNEY.

PREFACE

[By the late John L'Estrange.]

Among the records preserved in the muniment-room of the Mayor and Corporation of Norwich are two folio paper volumes, containing the names of the Freemen or Citizens admitted from the 11th Edward II. (1317) to the middle of the eighteenth century. The earlier volume was purchased, as appears from a note on folio 5, in 1344,[1] by Richard Spynk, citizen of Norwich, for the memoranda of the commonalty to be placed therein. The leaves of the book are numbered in red at the top, in a fifteenth century hand, up to 165,[2] commencing with 2, on which the original scribe began his work, with "Assit principo sancta Maria meo." Up to folio 29 is occupied with transcripts of charters, writs and documents of various dates, some of which are referred to by Blomefield in his History of Norwich. I do not intend at present to notice any of these, although some of them are highly interesting; but propose to confine myself to the lists of admissions to the freedom of the city, which begin at folio 30, and

[1] This is an early example of a paper book, although several years later than the Red Book at Lynn. The paper is the same throughout; the water mark is two circles, one above the other, pierced by a cross.

[2] Folios 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 are cut out; and from an error in the numbering, fo. 100 comes next to 89, fo. 122 is repeated, and fo. 160 comes next to 139. The four last leaves are parchment.

extend to folio 139. It is not quite clear at what date the book was first used for these lists: a careful examination leads to the conclusion that it could not have been earlier than 1377; and it is not until 1399 that it has the appearance of being entered up year by year. In the reigns of Edward II. and III. there are some important gaps. The 12th and 14th years of Edward II. are wanting, and there are no entries from the 2nd to the 11th of Edward III. inclusively. The 16th, 24th, and 28th years of that king are also missing. There is only one entry in the 29th, and no more until the 38th Edward III., from which date the entries appear to be perfect. Down to 1450 the names are recorded generally in years as follows:—

But in 1450, in the mayoralty of Thomas Aleyn, it was ordered that all who should thereafter be admitted to the freedom of the city should be entered under their respective trades, and the book, commencing at folio 55, was parcelled out under the several heads of Mercers, Grocers, Drapers, Worsted Weavers, Lysters, Peyntors, Goldsmythes, Screvenors, ffysshmongers, Skynners, Taylours, Weuers, Fullers, Shermen, Bedweavers, Carpenters, Masons, Barkers, Cordewaners, Bakers, Bochers, Barbours, Rafmen, Smythes, Brasyers, Bowers, Cotelers, Reders, Sadelers, Vynters, Carters, and Skeppers.

The names of those who had been admitted from the 1st Henry IV. were then posted up under their respective trades, where they could be ascertained, and the following are examples of the manner in which subsequent entries were made :—

Fo. 55.

Robertus Aleyn, junior, Mercer, quondam apprenticius, Roberti Toppe Civis et Aldermanni et Mercer Norwici, ac filius Roberti Aleyn, Junioris, de Erlham, Civis Norwici probavit per sacramentum suum libertatem patris sui tempore Thomæ Aleyn, Maioris, Thomæ Jngham, Junioris, Camerarij, et Roberti Heyham, Clerici, ibidem et habet inde copiam suam tam sigillo officij Maioratus quam Camerarii sigillatam.

Fo. 59.

Ricardus Russell, Grocer, nuper apprenticius, Thomæ Aleyn, Civis et Grocer et Aldermanni Norwici, admissus fuit ad libertatem dictæ Civitatis xv° die Julij Anno regni regis Henrici sexti xxix° tempore Radulphi Segrym' maioris; Thomæ Jngham, Junioris, Camerarij, et Roberti Heyham, Clerici ibidem.

Later entries are shortened by the omission in most instances of the fathers and the masters as well as those of the Chamberlain and Town Clerk.

Altogether the book contains about 6250 admissions to the freedom of the city, and down to 1450 the entries are as concise as can be desired. To look for any one name is comparatively a trifling task, but after 1450 it is tedious in the extreme; and having had frequently occasion to search this book, and the information it contains appearing to be of such varied interest and use, I have been anxious to render it available to antiquaries generally. To print or even to transcribe the record as it stands after 1450 is clearly out of the question, and to present it in the form of an index seems, on many grounds, the best plan that can be adopted. All the information afforded by the original is given in a tabular form, and any unusual entry is produced in a note. The spelling has not been altered except in the names of still existing trades, which, being sometimes in Latin and sometimes in English, have been in one case translated and in the other reduced to modern orthography; but I have compiled, from the original, an alphabetical list of the names of the various trades, professions, and descriptions, and have ventured to add notes, in most instances asking for rather than professing to convey information:—

Alien. See also Dutchman and Frenchman.
Allutarius, a tanner.
Apothecary and grocer.
Armiger.
Armiger and legis peritus.
Armiger and mercer.
Armourer.
Arrowsmith.
Attorney.

Baker, Backstere, Baxter.
Bagmaker. See Malemaker.
Barber.
Barker (a tanner), so called from his using bark.
Baylyff.
Bedweaver.
Bedemaker, maker of beads or rosaries.
Bellezeater, Belyeater, Bellfounder.
Bergham Maker, a portmanteau maker.
Bladesmith.
Blekester, Blexter, a bleacher. Entered with Listers.
Botman. Entered with rafmen.
Botwright.
Bowyer, Bower, maker of bows.
Brasier.
Bridilsmith. See also Lorimer.
Brewer, Beer Brewer. This trade is not mentioned until the reign of Henry V.
Browderer.
Butcher, Bocher.

Calaundrer, a hot presser.
Capellanus, chaplain.
Capper.
Cardmaker. Qy. whether he made the instruments with wire teeth with which wool is teazed or combed, or whether he made playing cards? Entered with saddlers.
Carnifex, butcher.
Carpenter.
Carrier.
Carter.
Chaloner, a maker of chalons or shalloons, used for coverlets and blankets. See also tapicer.
Chandler, Candiller. Entered with rafmen. It is found from the commencement of the list, but becomes less frequent after the time of Richard II., when Rafman is the commoner designation.
Chapman.
Chaucer, a shoemaker. See Cordwainer.
Cheseman.
Clericus, clerk in orders.
Clothier.
Clothman.
Collar Maker.
Comber. Entered with the smiths.
Common Sergaunt. See Sergaunt.
Cook. Entered with butchers.
Cooper.
Cordwainer.
Corsour, a horse dealer. See also Equorum Mercator.
Coverlet Weaver. Entered with bedweavers.
Cupper. Qy. a cooper.
Cutler.
Currier.

Dornyx weaver.
Draper.
Dutchman. See Alien.
Dyer.

Equorum Mercator, horse merchant. See Corsour.
Esquire.

Faber, smith.
Ferrour, Ferror, ironmonger. Entered with the smiths.
Fisher.
Fisherman.
Fresh-watermen.
Fresh-water fishers.
Fishmonger.
Fletcher, an arrow maker. Entered with bowyers.
Fourbour, Furbour, Fourbeshor, Furbeshor, sword cutlers. "No one shall allow to be made pommels or hilts of swords if they be not of good pattern and steel, and the scabbard must be made of good calf leather."—Ordinances of Furbeshors, Riley's London. Entered with cutlers and girdelers.

Fremason, a mason who wrought freestone.

Frenchman. See Alien.

Freser. Qy. a maker of frieze, or a rough plasterer.

Fuller.

Fuyster, Foister, Foisterer, said to be a joiner. Entered up in one case with saddlers.

Galachemaker.

Gardener.

Gayler. "John Middleton le Gayler," in the 18th and 19th Richard II., is the only one thus admitted.

Generosus.

Gentleman.

Gentleman and scrivener.

Gentleman and mercer.

Gentleman and legis peritus.

Girdeler, Gredeler, a maker of silk, wool, leather or linen thread garnished with copper, latten, or iron. Also a maker of garters. Entered with cutlers.

Glasswright, perhaps a maker of glass, but most probably only a glazier.

Glazier.

Glover. Entered with skinners.

Goldsmith.

Goldsmith and alien.

Goldbeter. Generally entered with painters, once with goldsmiths.

Goldfyner.

Graver, made images, &c., a carver or sculptor. Entered with carpenters.

Grocer (grossarius, engrosser).

Grocer and apothecary.

Grocer and armiger, Esquire.

Gyterner, a player upon or maker of gyterns.

Haberdasher. Minshew derives it from "Habit isher das? Teut." Will you have this? as shopkeepers commonly say. A more reliable etymology is that Haberdashers were originally dealers in hapertas or "halberject," a kind of stout cloth.—Riley.

Hardwareman. Qy. an ironmonger or a maker or dealer in hard stiff fabrics. Entered with the patynmakers, haberdashers, and poynte makers.

Hatter.

Hatmaker.

Hayerman. Qy. a Furrier. Entered with haberdashers and hardwaremen, hatters, cappers, &c.

Hirdeler, a maker of hurdles. Entered with the skeppers.

Hookmaker. Qy. a reaping-hook maker.

Hosteler, an Innkeeper. See Osteler.

Hosyer.

Husbond. Qy. one who kept stores of provisions—cf. a ship's husband.

Irlonder, Irlondweaver, — webster. Entered under worsted-weavers. Seem to have meant the same, but to have been earlier names; just as spicer and grocer are interchangeable.

Innholder.

Innkeeper.

Innkeeper and brewer.

Joyner, joynor.

Juris peritus. See Legis Peritus.

Keeler, Keleman. Some entered with rafmen, some with fishmongers.

Laborer.

Latoner, a worker in latten, a mixture of brass and tin, of which were made monumental brasses, culinary vessels, buckles, &c.

Lauator. A lauender was a laundryman; perhaps this was the same, or it may be lanitor for laniator, and so would mean a butcher.

Leche, a physician. Entered with Barbers after 1450, the first thus admitted was in the 3rd Richard II.

Legis peritis, a counsellor or lawyer.

Lekman. Qy. a man who sold leeks.

Letherkeruere. Qy. a worker in "cuirboulli," used amongst other purposes as defensive armour. John de Stratford, 23rd Edward III., is the only one of this trade mentioned.

Leder tewer, a leather dresser. To tew hemp is to beat or dress it.

Leyner.

Loder. Entered with the carters.

Lomynor, Limner, painters and decorafors of manuscripts, illuminators. Entered up with the scriveners.

Lymbrenner, limeburner.

Litster, Lyster, a dyer.

Locsmith, locksmith.

Lorimer, of lorum a bridle. The Loriners are a company of artificers who make bits for bridles, spurs, and such-like iron ware for horses.—Bailey.

Lyndraper, a linen draper.

Maebrer, a worker in marble or marble mason. Only one is mentioned, Gilbert de Corf, in 1349-50. His name occurs in the Account Rolls of Norwich Cathedral Priory, as a workman employed in the building of the cloister.

Malemaker, a maker of "males" or travelling bags. From the bags or males in which the letters were enclosed, mail coaches, mail carts, and mail trains took their distinguishing prefix.

Maltster.

Mason, Mazon.

Meleman. Bailey glosses "Bladarius, a cornchandler, a meal man."—O. L.

Mercator, Merchant.

Mercer.

Mercer and juris peritis.

Mercer and notary.

Mercer alias Vestment maker.

Miller.

Millwright.

Minstrell.

Notary.

Notary and mercer.

Ostler. See Hosteler.

Organmaker. I find but two of this trade, both admitted 24th Henry VI.

Painter, Peyntour.

Parchminer, parchment maker or dealer. Entered with scriveners.

Pardoner, a man who begged with an indulgence or pardon granted by a Bishop, Archbishop, or the Pope. These pardons seem to have been in some cases akin to the briefs of later times, and were granted amongst others to persons whose houses had been burnt, or who had met with some misfortune. It seems there were professional pardoners, who either farmed the pardons or paid over what they collected, less their commission. Maurice Tilly is the only name with this occupation attached to it.

Parson.

Passager.

Patynmaker.

Pedder, a hawker or pedler; "pedders way"

Peltrer, Pulter, a dealer in pelts or skins, a skinner. Entered with the skinners.

Pewterer.

Piscator. See Fisher, Fisherman.

Piscenarius. See Fishmonger.

Pistor. See Baker.

Plowright.

Plummer, Plomer.

Porter.

Powchman, Powchmaker, a maker of bags or pouches.

Poyntemaker. The breeches were fastened to rings, sewn inside the doublet, by points. The codpiece, answering to our modern flap, was also fastened with points, often of silver. These, it was the custom at one time for bridegrooms to cut off and throw to be scrambled for, just previous to their retiring.

Pursuivant, a messenger.

Pinner, a pin maker. Entered with saddlers.

Qwylwryghte, a wheelwright.

Rafman. This trade is first found 13th and 14th Richard II. Mr. Harrod, in Norfolk Archæology, vol. iii. p. 5, says "Blomefield explains (vol. iii. p. 207) that Raffmen were those that dealt in rafts or timber pieces. This, however, is an error. They are continually found associated with the grocers; and their occupation is indicated by the following extract from among a number of similar character in the Assembly Books. 'This day it is ordeyned that non occupacon, but only Raffemen, shall w^in this Citie bye any rowe (rough) talowe and thei to make it in candell and sell it forth.' They were chandlers. Blomefield may have been led into error from the watermen and boatmen being entered up under the head of Raffmen."

Recordator, recorder of the city of Norwich.

Reeder.

Roller, probably a maker of rolls.

Roper.

Saddler.

Saucer. Qy. a salt dealer.—Riley.

Sawer, sawyer.

Scriptor, Screvyner, a writer of deeds.

Scriptor and mercer.

Sengilwoman, Elizabeth Barret, admitted as a worsted weaver 24th Henry VI., is thus described. There is a previous instance of a female being admitted to the freedom of the city in the person of Petronilla de Bokenham, in 40th Edward III.

Sergaunt. See Common Sergaunt, an officer to make arrests.

Sergaunt and skinner.

Sexton.

Sheregrynder.

Sherman, a man who shears the woollen cloth in manufacturing it. Bailey has in his Dictionary "Shermans-craft, i.e., an art used at Norwich, where worsteds, stamins, fustians, and other woollen cloths are sheered."

Shomaker.

Silkman.

Skepper, a maker of skeps or baskets.

Skinner. See Pelterer.

Slaymaker, Slaywright, slaies are used in weaving.

Slingmaker.

Smith.

Somynour, a summoner or apparitor, a petty officer, generally of an ecclesiastical court.

Soutor, Sutor, a cobbler or shoemaker.
Spicer, grocer.
Spicer and mercer.
Spurrier, sporyer.
Steynour and Peyntour. There is a company of painter stainers in London. Floor cloth is called stain cloth to the present day.
Stryngер, a bowstring maker, or perhaps merely a twine maker.
Surgeon. Entered with barbers.
Surgeon and mercer.
Sword Bearer.

Tabernarius, Taverner, a tavern keeper.
Tailor, Talyor.
Tailor and haberdasher.
Tailor, alias sergaunt.
Tanner. See Barker.
Tapizer, Tapicer, a maker of tapestry and tapices or carpets, cushions, bankers, or cloths for banks or benches, and chalons, a thick stuff used for blankets or coverlets.
Tassemaker. "Tasse of corn or other lyke"; Tassis, Promp. Parv.
Textor, weaver.
Text writer. Entered with Scriveners.
Thikwollen weaver.
Thaxter, Thackister, a thatcher.
Tinctor, a dyer.
Trumpour, a trumpet maker or player. The Promptorium glosses this "Trumpour buccinator" tibicen.
Turner.
Tyler.

Vestment maker.
Victualler and Brewer.
Vinter, Vyntер.

Wadbreker. "Wad, a bundle of straw or peas."—Bailey. Qy. then a broker of wads.
Waterman. Some entered with rafmen, some with fishmongers.
Waxchandler. Entered with barbers.
Weaver, Webster. Entered together.
Welyster. Qy. Webster.
Wheelwright, Whilwright. See Qwylwright.
Whylter. Qy. Quilter.
Wiredrawer.
Woolchapman, Woolman, Woolmonger.
Worstedman.
Worsted Weaver. In the reign of Henry VII., 1485 to 1509, a period of 23 years and 8 months, 112 worsted weavers were admitted. During the reign of Henry VIII., 1509 to 1547, 37 years and 9 months, 185 were admitted.
Worsted Calandrer.
Worsted Sherman.
Woollen Weaver, webster.
Wrightе, a house carpenter. Entered with the carpenters.

Yoman.
Yoman, nunc Armiger.

A great majority of early surnames were derived from the names of places,[3] but some were taken from the trades

[3] Out of the first 212 names in the book, which take us down to 1st Edward III. inclusively, speaking roughly, 124 are derived from the names of places, nine from trades, and 79 from other sources. The prefix "de" goes out about the end of the reign of Richard II., 1399, although here and there an example may be found in the reign of Henry IV., 1399-1413.

followed by the individuals who bore them, or by their immediate ancestors; thus, amongst others, Adam le Rollere, 14th and 15th Edward III.; Richard Cardemaker, 19th and 20th Edward III.; Thomas Tassemaker, 23rd Edward III.; Robert Armurer, 38th Edward III.; Roger Glaswright of Lynn, 43rd Edward III.; John Comber, 18th and 19th Richard II.; John Jonyour, 2nd Henry IV.; William Wyredrawer, 9th Henry V.

There are some instances in the early part of the record, and they become more numerous later on, as surnames began to be transmitted from father to son, of persons with trade names exercising other trades than their names indicate; thus, Stephen Sherman, shoemaker, 12th and 13th Richard II.; Martin Fuller le Webster, 16th and 17th Richard II.; John Barker, bocher, 6th Henry IV.; John Thaxster, bocher, 1st Henry V. But it seems probable that most of the early trade names really indicated the occupation of their owners, and thus a few more names of trades may be added to the preceding list:—

Bookebynder, Adam (10th and 11th Ric. II.)
Brasman, Peter, 38th Edward III.
Groem, John Le, 19th Edward II.
Mareschal, Alan Le, a farrier.
Orlogger, Walter, 7th Henry V., a clock or dial maker.
Potter, Thomas, 40th Edward III.
Rentegaderare, Reginald.

Solfaa Ralph (11th Henry IV.) must surely have been a singer, on the same principle that Walter ffleighe was a butcher, John Pumpe a cordwainer, and John Walklate a pedder.
